GLOBAL ECONOMIC SUMMIT AN OVERVIEW

The Global Economic Summit is the flagship annual event of World Trade Centre Mumbai and All India Association of Industries. Having successfully organized four editions of the Global Economic Summit, the 5th edition will deliberate on the theme “Enabling Food for All”.

Agriculture has a potentially large role to play in guaranteeing food security. Today, even though the world produces enough food to feed everyone, 805 million people around the world are still facing hunger. Ensuring enough food for all is the predominant challenge of the 21st century.

We need to take measures to achieve food and nutrition security. Since food production is not a sufficient condition for food security, it means that the way we are producing food needs to change. The model of production and distribution needs a paradigm shift. Food systems need to be more sustainable, inclusive and resilient.
